All "After Hours" access to classrooms, labs, and other specified facilities is gained through prior permission of professors which is communicated directly to University Police from the appropriate professor, or department head.

Students requiring "After Hours" access should contact the appropriate person responsible for the facility and ask them to e-mail UPD Chief Terry Turner to communicate their permission.

Patrol Officers are provided with an updated access list as they are published by the various departments. The access list provided to UPD is the only list by which access may be given.

The Aeronautical Science Simulator Lab and all Engineering labs are accessed by way of an access list which is routinely updated through the administrative staff of these departments.

Access to these areas is enforced for the protection of the resources in the labs and the students who benefit from them.
