The video game attaché from our embassy in Yeswe Slorab received this from one of his operatives. It was hidden in a video game screen shot. Some of the pixels got shifted straight down, but not in order. We need to decode the message. Our decoders are busy in the middle school soccer season. If you notice, there are several columns with only a single letter missing. These will be easy. Next, look at the two or three letter words and see which letters make the most sense. Also, it's possible the quote is from your Bible Study passage. Your missions chairman is waiting for this important message.
