Our operatives in Wanratanchong smuggled this message to us and we had it decoded, but the decryption team mistakenly used Monkey Glue, not the Gorilla Glue they were supposed to. So, many of the letters fell straight down the page, but not in order vertically. We need your help to reassemble the message. Go for columns with one or two fallen letters. Then look at two or three letter words and try letters that make sense. Be aware of cells with punctuation ... no letters will go there. When you complete the task, pass the message along to your worship team.
